

Tarle Law will be a Gold Sponsor of the 2016 CLM National Construction Claims Conference

Tarle Law is a sponsor of the 2016 CLM National Construction Claims Conference, which will be held in the Manchester Grand Hyatt from September 28 - 30. The National Construction Claims Conference will address construction defect claims, as well as claims centered on construction site accidents/injuries, coverage issues, subcontractor issues, and new technologies. Sessions also will address issues on the national, regional, and state levels.

With physical offices located in both California and Texas, Tarle Law actively represents clients in a diverse range of industries, including construction defect and accident litigation involving both residential as well as commercial construction, insurance defense litigation, insurance coverage consulting, and general liability claims, including personal injury, premises and product liability. Tarle Law is a solely owned women practice and has been designated as a WOSB (Women Owned Small Business) firm. Our experienced team of attorneys work effectively and efficiently representing our clients, including general contractors, subcontractors and owners/developers from early pre-litigation claim handling and mitigation analysis through the litigation process. We are strongly positioned to defend clients' interests, evaluate risk transfer options and resolution opportunities, and ultimately represent them in trial.

About the CLM

The Claims and Litigation Management Alliance (CLM) promotes and furthers the highest standards of claims and litigation management and brings together the thought leaders in both industries. CLM's Members and Fellows include risk and litigation managers, insurance and claims professionals, corporate counsel, outside counsel and third party vendors. The CLM sponsors educational programs, provides resources and fosters communication among all in the industry. To learn more about the CLM, please visit www.theclm.org.
